

SARATOGA MECCA FOR DELEGATES

Roosevelt Will Arrive This Afternoon to Direct Fight

DEFEAT IS ADMITTED

By Old Guard—Ex-president Will Not Give An Inch and Sher- man Will Stand Pat.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 26.—When Col. Roosevelt rolls into this village late this afternoon one of his first callers will be Lou Payn, of Chatham, one of the leading veterans of the old guard. He will visit the new boss of the Republican organization to appeal to him to be merciful. The old guard is "licked to a frazzle," and they admit it privately, though outwardly they are still insisting that they have control. Payn will also ask Roosevelt not to force an issue on the temporary chairmanship. He will point out that the vast majority of the up-state delegates want Sherman to act as chairman, and will explain to Roosevelt that the turning down of Sherman will harm the party more than anything that may be put in or omitted from the platform. Roosevelt is not expected to give an inch. Sherman will stand pat and the result will be a test vote when the convention meets at noon tomorrow. But as Payn put it to his friends today: "Roosevelt will have to take all the responsibility, not the friends of Sherman. The fight here is not for today or tomorrow, but for generations to come. Out of this convention, whether the old guard wins or loses, is to come a little army of courageous Republicans, who will form the nucleus for the old time Republican party of this state. These courageous Republicans intend to run the party without interference from Washington or any outside sources. Roosevelt and I have been and are friends, and I shall tell him just what he is facing."

The delegates began flocking into town today in real earnest. Every train unloaded its quota and it was a far different appearing crowd than has been in evidence at Republican conventions in past years. There was an utter absence of the old time jolliness and happy cheering. In contrast, the delegates of today are a grim lot. Not a man of them attempted to dodge the declaration that they are here for fight and not for a frolic. And there is an amazing unanimity in declaring that no man can forecast the outcome.

ROOSEVELT OFF FOR FIGHT AT SARATOGA

New York, Sept. 26.—Prepared, if forced to accept various compromises of the progress of the issues he has raised, Col. Theodore Roosevelt today started for the Republican state convention at Saratoga for the final round of the final fight with the old guard.

The reports of his many scouts throughout the state and his leaders who have been at Saratoga for the past three days have convinced the colonel that he can hardly hope to control the convention on the direct primaries plank and various other issues. He feels that a compromise direct primary plank may be necessary. The colonel believes that New York is a conservative state and may not be ready to take up the advanced, ultra-radical policies that have been put into effect in some of the western states.

Immediately upon his arrival at Saratoga the colonel will receive detailed reports of the situation from State Superintendent of Prisons, C. V. Collins, Congressman Herbert Parsons and Lloyd C. Griscom. He is certain of election as temporary chairman but the difficulty will come on the various progressive policies he will attempt to have included in the platform. On several of these he doubts that he will be able to control a majority of the delegates. His upstate lieutenants have reported that many of the delegates, instructed for Roosevelt for temporary chairman and pledged to support him will not line up behind a radical platform, or even a radical primary plank.

With this situation in view, the colonel will "not go any further in the matter of platform than the people of the state are fully prepared to go."

Col. Roosevelt left the Grand Central station at 9:30 on a special train bearing the delegates to the convention. He motored in from Oyster Bay. "I have nothing at all to say now, nothing at all," he told the reporters.

Roosevelt, with Charles Anderson, negro collector of internal revenue of New York, and J. Mayhew Wain-

George Bohon of Harrodsburg, Ky., administrator of the estate of Carl Etherington, the victim of the mob of July 8 was in Newark on Monday and held a conference with the county commissioners relative to the payment of the $5000 indemnity made payable to estate of any person lynched by a mob in Ohio.

After consulting for a time, the commissioners made a tender of $1,000, which was tentatively refused by Mr. Bohon, but the commissioners are of the opinion that it will finally be accepted and the incident closed.

CADETS PLACED UNDER ARREST AT WEST POINT

West Point, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The entire cadet corps remains under close arrest today for having the "silence" to Capt. Langdon. They stick to their story that they had formed a dislike for this officer. Until the board of inquiry discloses its finding and punishment is decided upon, the cadets will remain prisoners in their rooms except during study periods.

Goodrich, O., Sept. 26.—Posses are adding the police to hunt for the murderer of Elizabeth Anderson, 18, whose body was found in the cellar of a deserted house here yesterday. ## TENANT Of Apartment House Falls Three Stories While Asleep and Es- capes Uninjured.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—After falling from the third to the main floor of an apartment house here this morning, John Ratkof wanted to start an argument when tenants woke him up and suggested that he go to bed. He came home in the early morning and went to sleep over a banister on the third floor. When the other occupants of the apartment, who were aroused by the fall, found him, he was still sleeping and entirely uninjured.

Almost any servant girl can be depended upon to increase the number of pieces in the expensive dinner set.

AUTOMOBILE RACES OF THE YEAR FOR VANDERBILT CUP

SECTION OF VANDERBILT COURSE

William K. Vanderbilt Jr.

Garlen, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The great event in automobile racing in America for the year 1910 will soon be a thing of the past. Daily tests are being made by the fastest drivers in the country preparatory for the race for the Vanderbilt cup. Thirty cars have been entered for the race, and this points contest promises to be the hottest ever held. Between 100 and 150 spectators are expected to be made in attendance. It was in 1907 that William K. Vanderbilt offered a trophy to be contested for in a race of from 250 to 300 miles on a road course. The first race was run on a circuit in Nassau county, N. Y., and was won by George Heath, driving a Packard, in 255 miles at an average speed of 50.7 miles an hour. Heath, although an American, drove for a French company. The second contest, run in 1908, was won for France by Henry E. Darracq, at an average speed of 51.6 miles an hour and one-half miles an hour. France scored its third triumph in 1909, when Wagner in a Darracq made 160.3 miles an hour for the 247 miles. There was no cup race in 1907, the fourth taking place on Oct. 24, 1908, when George Robinson in a Lo-

GREAT CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL TO BE CONSECRATED IN NEW YORK CITY

CARDINAL VANNUTELLI

CARDINAL LOGUE

ARCHBISHOP FARLEY

STATUE OF ST. PATRICK

New York, Sept. 26.—Archbishop Farley, through Manager W. G. Murphy, has made the complete program of the consecration services at St. Patrick's cathedral which are to take place Oct. 3, 5 and 7. The consecration is to be one of the most notable Roman Catholic functions ever held in this city. St. Patrick's cathedral holds 15,000 people, but the officials say that many more than that number will desire to attend each of the different functions of the three day services, and they are making corresponding preparations. There are about 500,000 Roman Catholics in Manhattan and the Bronx alone, not to mention 500,000 in Brooklyn, 60,000 in Queens and 15,000 in Staten Island. Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore will officiate and the solemn pontifical mass with which the ceremonies will begin, the papal legate, Cardinal Vannutelli, and the primate of all Ireland, Cardinal Logue, being present in the sanctuary. Many European prelates, besides Canadian bishops and almost all of the hierarchy of the United States, will attend the functions, which are to continue for several days. The payment of all debt upon a Roman Catholic church must precede its consecration, and in the untiring efforts of Archbishop Farley is due the fact that not a dollar is now due upon this valuable property. For years he has labored with this end in view. Recently he has been rewarded by the gift of $225,000 from ninety individual donors, and the parish of his diocese through the collectors have contributed $200,000 more, which amounts together wipe out all debt.

WM. DARNABY KILLED WHILE CROSSING TRESTLE OF B. & O. AT ST. LOUISVILLE

William Darnaby, aged 35 years, a well known molder who has worked at the Wehrle foundry at different times during the past several years, was instantly killed Saturday evening on the trestle at the north boundary of the village of St. Louisville, about eight miles north of Newark. As near as can be learned and from the most reasonable surmises, the accident occurred as follows:

Darnaby for the past several weeks has been employed as a helper by W. B. Vance on his farm near Utica. On Saturday evening Darnaby bought a round trip ticket from Utica to Newark and boarded B. & O. train No. 16, due in Newark at 6:50. For some reason the unfortunate man left the train at St. Louisville, probably having forgotten something, and started to walk north toward Utica.

When on the trestle, B. & O. No. 8, the fast express, which has no stop at St. Louisville and which follows No. 16 in only 20 minutes, came thundering by and struck Darnaby, killing him instantly. The body was cast into his and scattered for a distance of 100 yards before the train could be brought to a stop. The remains were picked up and placed in an Armbuckle coffee box and Dr. L. L. Marriot, the county coroner, who lives in St. Louisville, was called and viewed the remains, and stamped the death certificate as an accidental death. His formal verdict will be in accordance with this finding, unless other facts are brought to light that will cause a change.

A call was sent to Criss Bros. & Jones and their wagon was sent to the scene. The remains were then brought to the morgue on South Third street, where they were placed in a casket, preparatory to burial, and to await funeral arrangements.

The deceased was a member of Local 152, Iron Molders of America, and the proper committee of this order took the matter up, and through a telegram sent by them to the chief of police of Lexington, Ky. where Darnaby was born and reared, his brother was located, who arrived in Newark and made the funeral arrangements.

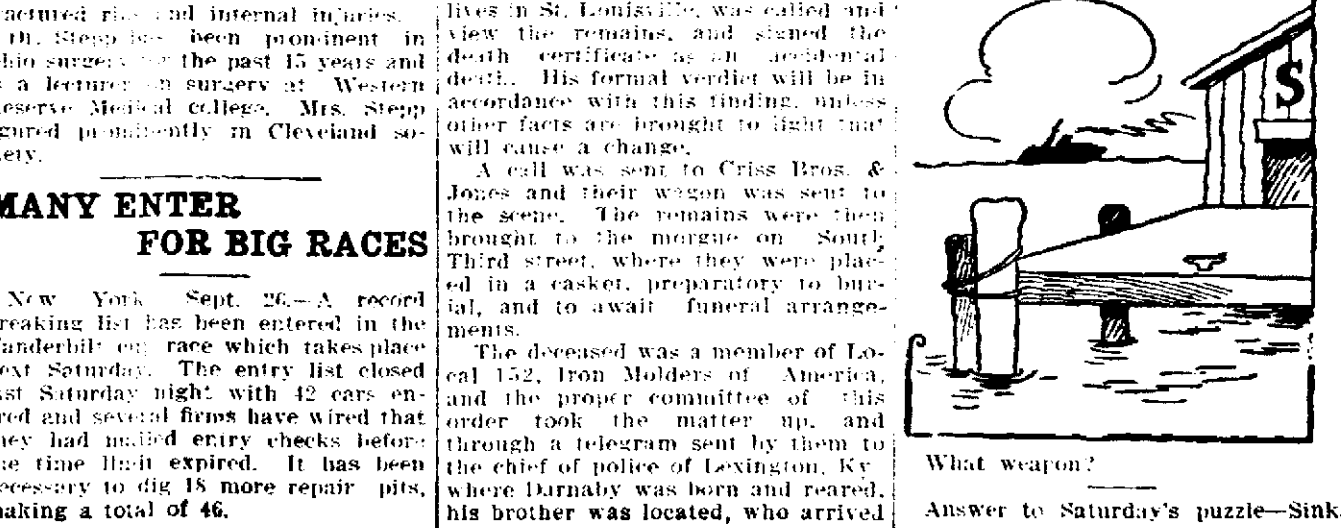

Two brothers of the deceased, Taylor Darnaby of Lexington, Ky., and Henry of Cincinnati, arrived in Newark early Monday morning and arranged to have the remains interred in Cedar Hill cemetery at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Besides these brothers, the dead man left one sister, Miss Martha Darnaby of Indianapolis, and two sons, aged 9 and 12 years, who live in Covington, Ky.

CRIME OF DOCTOR IS REVEALED

Nurse Confesses After Being Shown Picture of Her Dead Mother

BODY PACKED IN TRUNK

After Legs Had Been Cut Off at the Ankles—Physician Tries to Break Away.

San Francisco, Sept. 26.—After two days and nights of silence, Marie Messerschmidt, the nurse held since Friday night in connection with the death of Eva Swan, following the finding of the girl's body beneath the cement flooring of the basement of a vacant house, confessed to the police Sunday that she had knowledge of the operation performed by Dr. James Grant upon Nurse Swan and that she attended the girl after the operation.

The confession states that Dr. Robert Thompson, known as Dr. Grant, packed the girl's body into a trunk, first cutting off the legs at the ankles; that Grant discussed the burial of the body with the nurse, and spent two nights at the house where the body was found.

Dr. Grant was taken into custody with the nurse and late last evening Paul Parker, a former Leland Stanford athlete, who lived in the house where Miss Swan roomed, was taken to the police station and locked up.

The nurse was induced to tell the story by her brother-in-law, August Borman of Oakland, who visited her at the city prison yesterday afternoon. He showed her a picture of her mother, pleading with her to tell the police everything, impressing upon her that this would be her mother's wish. The young woman fainted and upon her recovery became hysterical. When she was quieted she agreed to tell the entire story to detectives.

Following the confession, Dr. Grant was led from his cell and brought into the desk sergeant's office, where Miss Messerschmidt was seated. At sight of his guilt, Dr. Grant broke away from the jailers and ran along the prison corridors. He was chased by policemen and forcibly returned to the office. He staggered and almost sank to the floor when he learned of the nurse's collapse.

In her story Miss Messerschmidt said that Paul P. Parker, a young man who had known Miss Swan for eight years, had visited the hospital on three occasions to see the girl dying after the operation. The police immediately took Parker into custody.

He admitted the visits to the hospital to see Miss Swan, but strongly denied any responsibility for her condition. Later he gave the police a detailed account of his acquaintance with Miss Swan.

Miss Messerschmidt said she was not present at the operation, which was performed, she said, April 16, at the office of Dr. Grant. Following the operation, Miss Swan returned to work at the office where she was employed. She was forced to leave her work April 26 because of illness and went to Dr. Grant. She was placed in bed in the small hospital ward maintained by the doctor. There she remained for 16 days, her condition gradually becoming worse until death came.

According to Miss Messerschmidt, the girl died during the night while alone.

JEWELS STOLEN IN COLUMBUS

GUILT IS PERSONAL SAID HARMON TO ROOSEVELT

When Paul Morton was on trial, or rather when the Santa Fe railroad was being hauled over the coals for giving rebates, it was Judson Harmon, one of the attorneys for the government, who said that "GUILT WAS PERSONAL" and that punishment should be inflicted on the officials who broke the law. But Paul Morton, formerly of the Santa Fe railroad, was then Secretary of the Navy in President Roosevelt's cabinet. It was then that Teddy, with his usual facility, discharged Judson Harmon as a government attorney and dismissed the case. If "guilt was personal" it sunk right into the Roosevelt cabinet, and was entirely too personal for Teddy. He protected Morton from any such personal prosecution and kept him in his cabinet until a suit job was provided for him in a big New York life insurance company. This transaction illustrates Roosevelt's sincerity when he talks so loudly about the "magnificence of great wealth."

The stand-pat bosses are laying all sorts of sly plans to fool Democratic voters into the support of their Dick candidates for the Legislature. But Dick is so discredited by decent voters of all parties that the stand-patters will make a dismal failure at deceiving people to any extent.

LATEST STUMPER FOR HARDING

There need be no surprise among Democrats over the announcement that James R. Garfield is to take the stump for Harding. There has been a close, confidential relationship between "Jim" Garfield and George B. Cox ever since the Mark Hanna fight for United States Senator. Hanna's election was accomplished by Garfield going to Cincinnati, where he and George B. Cox "induced" the requisite number of Independents of the Hamilton county delegation. The votes of these members, influenced by the "persuasive" methods of these political partners on that occasion, made Hanna's election possible. The greatest difference between Cox and Garfield is that the latter is purest by profession. There will be no Republican on the stump who will be more unfair toward Governor Harrison than "Jim" Garfield.

There is a rebellion against the election of Dick for Senator in Cleveland, and Republican candidates for the Legislature threaten to vote against him. It will be noted that the stand-pat bosses are not in such complete control in Cleveland as in many other portions of the state like our own locality for instance. The stand-pat bosses will not fail, however, to whip all the Republican members into line for Dick if they succeed in electing a majority in the Legislature.

HARDING'S UNFAIRNESS

As might be expected, Warren G. Harding is just as unfair in his stump speeches as he always has been in his newspaper toward Democrats. In his speech at Logan he charged that Governor Harrison was to blame for the defeat of the Woods public utility bill by the last Legislature. The bill, whose author is a Republican, was defeated in the Senate by the opposition of Republican Senators, and it is known that these Senators got their instructions to kill the bill from President Taft at Washington. For Mr. Harding to make such a brazen utterance on the stump is certainly not to his credit this year of campaign reform when fairness, honesty and sincerity are so vital as issues. The tidal wave that is sweeping the country cannot be stopped in Ohio by such campaign methods.

GREAT INTEREST IN DEMOCRATIC MEETING SATURDAY

Both the Democratic Central and Executive committee met Saturday and the Democratic headquarters was thronged all day long. Secretary Edward A. Gilbert and M. M. Taylor were busy all day receiving reports from various precincts. The committee was called to order at 1 o'clock by Chairman James J. Hill, with Secretary Arthur Bollwine at his post. Everybody had good reports of conditions in their precincts. The candidates were out in force, everybody talked, and all reports indicate that Licking county is going to poll a record-breaking Democratic vote this fall. Democrats from all over the county were there and conspicuous among the throng was Senator Walter A. Aldorf and ex-Senator Wm. E. Miller. It was a great committee meeting and at a late hour adjourned to meet next Saturday, October 15, when we predict standing room will be at a premium.

WHEN IS HE SINCERE?

At his campaign opening in Kenton Mr. Harding said: "specifically, here in Ohio we need such enactment, and its enforcement, as will make impossible the deplorable situation so long disturbing the tranquility of our capital city. The public weal demands that disputes between public service corporations and their employees be speedily adjusted by arbitration, or left to a utilities commission, or some other suitable tribunal of immediate resort, whose settlement will be just and final."

This will do very well for sentiment, but sentiment cannot obviate facts. If Mr. Harding thought he was doing something clever by trying to make political capital of the Columbus strike he probably forgot for the time being his own record on arbitration as a member of the state senate.

When the municipal code, commonly known as the Cox code, was enacted at a special session of the legislature in 1902, Mr. Harding was a member of the senate and served on the conference committee which made the final draft of the code as enacted. The house had adopted by a vote of 66 to 22 an amendment offered by Representative Guerini, (Rep.) of Sandusky to require a compulsory arbitration clause inserted in street railway franchises. This amendment was killed by the conference committee, and it is charged that Mr. Harding at the behest of Senators Hanna and Foraker was instrumental in having it killed.

Mr. Harding's speech as a candidate for governor does not coincide with his record as a state senator.

Having a long record for straddling or getting on both sides of a question it is not surprising to find that Mr. Harding has also planted himself on both sides of the arbitration question.

ARE YOU WILFULLY BLIND?

Every laborer in Ohio knows that the price of woolen clothing has gone sky high. Every farmer knows the price of his wool is down in the sub-cellar. Both agree that the tariff, dictated by the monopolists, and accepted in the Taft-Aldrich-Payne bill, is framed for the eastern manufacturer, and both ought to get busy to repudiate a party responsible for the law.

Warren G. Harding said in a speech at Cleveland April 20, 1910, as reported in the Cleveland Leader, that this tariff is the best that any congress had yet produced. He said that before he was nominated for governor. His platform says of it, "No tariff bill was ever more unjustly assailed."

The Cleveland Leader, a Republican paper, said editorially after the platform was adopted, "None but the wilfully blind can fail to see the widespread disappointment among Ohio Republicans over the outcome of the platform fight at Columbus."

Unless you are wilfully blind election day you will mark your ballot for "Harmon and a clean sweep."

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

The B. & O. railroad, taking advantage of every modern safeguard against fire losses, is preparing to further the safety of its terminals, piers, docks and stations through the installation of up-to-date fire fighting apparatus. The railroad employees are to be more efficiently organized into emergency fire companies and drilled by experts in the art of combating flames. At the larger terminals these emergency companies will be on duty continuously, protecting the property at night as well as during the day.

High pressure pipe lines will furnish the water supply by means of large pumps in the company's power houses and electric fire alarm signals installed throughout the terminals to notice employees of a fire and to call them into action.

The first terminal on the B. & O. to be fully equipped in this way is Locust Point, Baltimore, where a most satisfactory demonstration was given Wednesday afternoon before a large party of railroad officials, members of the Baltimore fire department and fire insurance underwriters.

Immediately upon reaching Locust Point an alarm was sounded from the box adjoining the landing, and in less than a minute nearly 100 men, consisting of employees of the yard, had 12 streams playing on an imaginary blaze.

After the efficiency of the streams had been tested an alarm was sounded from Pier 6. This is the North German Lloyd pier, and the men did not know whether it was a real fire or a part of the test, and they lost no time in cutting off the water from the pipes which they had been manning and running to the scene of the new alarm.

At the later place it was decided to make a test of the system of long leads of hose. Six streams were put into action, and these were later substituted for four leads of still greater length. The testing was under the supervision of Mr. B. S. Mave, superintendent of the insurance department of the company. He was assisted by Mr. Walter Ancker, superintendent of floating equipment.

The terminal at Locust Point has a high pressure pipe line system running along the water front, and the water for which is supplied by a newly erected pumping station equipped with two boilers of 250 horse power each, and three pumps with a capacity of 4750 gallons a minute. The water for the pumps is drawn through a 36-inch main from the harbor. There are 27 reel houses along the wharves, with 18,000 feet of hose.

The expenditure in perfecting the fire-fighting facilities at the Locust Point terminal exceeded $100,000.

HAD TO CALL "BOOSTER" INTO REQUISITION

The entire service on the interurban line between Columbus and Zanesville, as well as the city service in Newark, was badly crippled Monday morning, caused by the "blowing out" of a rotary motor at the car barns in West Church street, this city.

The sub-station at Euna was removed to Newark, and at 10:15 o'clock all cars were running about on schedule time.

The general public does not know the generic meaning of sub-station. It is a machine known among electric railway men as a "booster" to the main power generator, which is located at Hebron. Between Columbus and Zanesville there are two of these sub-stations, located at Euna and Hebron, on the line between Newark and Columbus.

OFFICER BURKE RECOVERED THE MISSING WATCH

After a friend had called on her Saturday night, Mrs. Milla Fields, West Locust street, discovered that a little jeweled watch which was on her dresser, was missing. She immediately suspected the woman, who is well known to the police, and who was recently married, and reported the matter to the officials.

Officer Burke went to work on the case and recovered the property without much trouble and returned it to its owner. The watch is a pretty timepiece of jewels and enamel, and was valued at $10. It was a present given her several years ago and she was warm in her thanks to the policeman who cleverly recovered it for her.

FEARS LADY COOK WAS PREPARING TO FEIGN A FIT

REPORTER SUING FOR $30,000 HAS AMBULANCE WAIT AT LAWYER'S OFFICE.

"Blackmail!" She Shouts—Denies She Employed Silver to Write Her Biography.

While Lady Cook, suffragist and authoress, once Tennessee Claflin, a native of Licking county, was testifying in the offices of her lawyers, Coudert Brothers, 2 Rector street, an ambulance waited below, says a New York dispatch. Isaac Wells, lawyer for Harry C. Silver, a reporter who is suing for $30,000 for breach of contract to write her biography, explained that he had been informed that Lady Cook was going to feign a fit to avoid examination, and he planned to have her rushed to a hospital and put her under observation.

"You didn't come here to do what you did in the Wallace case?" he asked at the outset of the examination, referring to a previous hearing at which Lady Cook was suddenly stricken.

"No, no, no!" exclaimed the witness with great heat.

Lady Cook clashed bitterly with Attorney Wells throughout the hearing, and John P. Murray, her counsel, cautioned her to be more direct in her answers. When an article illustrated by a picture of Sir Francis Cook was shown to her, the witness cried:

"That's my darling husband! When he was alive he protected me from blackmail!" Lady Cook explained that she had given Silver various sums when he alleged were payments on account of his verbal contract to write her biography because she had no children and was fond of making other people, especially newspaper writers, happy by trips to Europe with plenty of spending money. She asserted she had done no more for Silver than for hundreds of others. She mentioned the names of several women now active in newspaper work in this city as beneficiaries of her bounty, and declared that her friends had called her "dotty" for this habit.

Lady Cook pounded on the table and gave long, rambling replies when asked about her proposed divorce from Sir Francis Cook, her alleged statement that she was under the guidance of the spirit of Demosthenes, her foundation of a magnetic infirmary at Chicago, the principal asset of which was her alleged power of magnetic healing, and her part in the Tilton-Beecher trial.

"I'm not up here as a murderer or a thief," she cried. "I don't have to answer all these questions." She denied she had said she was going back to the Doughty house, her English seat, and stay there "until her soul became as white as snow." Lady Cook denied she had ever commissioned Silver to write her biography and was substantiated by Mrs. Ella Wells, daughter of Mrs. Dennis O'Halloran, her adopted sister. She became furious when questioned about her petition to have the body of her husband exhumed in Australia, where he had died, and about whose death there were circulated rumors that he had been poisoned. She cried "Blackmail!" at these questions.

A plaited frill of mousseline falls over the velvet collar on right side.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Mother Bird And the Hen

ONE day Evelyn and Jack had been watching a mother hen take care of her brood of chickens. They found it very interesting and amusing to see how well the big mamma hen looked after her little ones, scratching up worms for them to eat and calling them together under her wings when any animal or person got too close to them. When night came the children were still talking of the mother hen and her chickens and were eager to tell daddy all about them. That made daddy think of something he had seen a mother hen do when he was a boy and lived on a farm, and this is the story he told to Jack and Evelyn that evening:

"The hen of which I am going to tell you," said daddy, "had a large number of chicks. I do not remember just how many there were, but I think there must have been at least ten of them. The mother hen was very proud of her chicks and would cluck loudly when any one came to look at them, but if any one came nearer than she thought was safe for her little ones she would ruffle her feathers and try to peck. This hen and her chickens were allowed to run around a large yard where there were plenty of worms and bugs, and they had plenty to eat.

"In a tree near the yard in which the chickens scratched was the nest of a free mother bird which had four little ones. I know there were four of them because once I climbed the tree and peeped into the nest. But I did not disturb the little birdies as some bad boys do. Well, of course, the mother bird did all she could to find food for her youngsters. She looked down into the yard and saw the mother hen scratching away busily and thought there would be a good place for her. But when she flew down and tried to pick up a worm the mother hen, which was very selfish, flew at her, scolded her in the bird language and tried to frighten her away.

"At first the little bird was really frightened and flew away, but after awhile, as her little ones cried for food, she flew back again into the yard and again tried to pick up a nice fat worm. The mother hen saw her again and flew at her to drive her off, but this time the other mother bird was not so easily frightened. She flew only a little distance in the air, stopped and came down directly over the hen's back. What do you think she did then?

"I can't tell," said Evelyn, and Jack said the same.

"Why, she alighted on top of the mother hen's broad back, pulled out a feather and flew away with it. That made the hen very angry, but she could do nothing against the little bird. Many times the mother bird flew down and plucked feathers from the hen's back until the hen called her chickens to her and went out of the yard with them. After that the other bird was able to get many worms and bugs from the yard."

PEOPLE'S PULPIT...

PREACHING TO IMPRISONED SPIRITS

"By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison" (1 Peter iii, 19).

Sermon by
CHARLES T. RUSSELL
Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 25.—A Convention of Bible Students is in session in this city. Pastor Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, as President of the International Bible Students Association, addressed the Students twice today. His audiences were large and intelligent. We report one of his addresses from the text foregoing. He said:—

Much speculation has been aroused by our text. Some have claimed that it signifies that Christ, after his death on the cross and before his resurrection, went to some place where human spirits are imprisoned in some kind of purgatory and there preached to them. Not only is the Catholic theory in line with this suggestion, but many Protestants hold that the dead may be prayed for and thus be assisted to escape from eternal torment. All of this is wrong, as we shall show—quite contrary to the teachings of our text when viewed in the light of its context.

Those preached to were not human beings, but spirit beings—not men, but angels. This is clearly stated in verse 20, which tells us when these angels were imprisoned and why. They were imprisoned in the days of Noah at the time of the flood. They were imprisoned for disobedience. So we read (verse 19), "He preached unto spirits in prison, which sometime were disobedient, when once the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing." Turning back to the Genesis account of that time we find quite a complete record or history of these disobedient spirits, in the Sixth Chapter, verses 1-5.

Angels Preferred to Be Humans.

Some time after father Adam's disobedience and his expulsion from Eden—the holy angels were permitted to visit humanity with a view to assisting men back to harmony with God. This doubtless was permitted for two reasons: First, had such an opportunity not been furnished, the angels might in the conclusion of God's great Plan, have been inclined to say, "Yes, God accomplished human salvation, but in a very roundabout way and at very great cost and trouble. Had he given us an opportunity to mingle with humanity we might have had an uplifting influence upon the people and have accomplished their reconciliation to God."

God wished to forestall any such misunderstanding of the wisdom of the Plan which he had arranged and would, in due time, work out; secondly, the angels themselves never had come in contact with sin of any kind. Hence they never had been tested or tried in respect to their obedience and loyalty to the Creator. They were permitted to attempt the recovery of humanity—partly in order to test their own obedience and loyalty to God.

Our knowledge of spirit beings and the powers granted to them by the Almighty is limited to our observation of the Bible record. The angels who appeared as young men at our Lord's sepulchre and again at his ascension and who, as soon as they had accomplished the purposes of their visit, vanished, are illustrations.

We remember the account of how Abraham sat in the door of his tent and, Behold, three men came to him. He received them as men, entertained them at dinner and, we read, "They did eat and talked with Abraham." They had human powers though still spirit beings. When they dematerialized they vanished.

Genesis vi, 1-2, informs us that this privilege of materialization for the assistance of mankind was eventually misused by some of the angels as an opportunity for sinful intercourse with humanity. The time at which this began is not definitely stated. The expression, "When men began to multiply on the face of the earth," might safely be estimated at about a thousand years after Adam's creation and fall. This would leave a period of 655 years to the flood. It was approximately during that long period that the angel-sons of God, seeing the daughters of men, took to themselves for wives all that they chose of the fair daughters of men. And they bore children to them. The same became mighty men which were of old men of renown—and giants. We remember that at that early day human life was much longer than now and that manhood was scarcely reached before a century; and that few became fathers sooner; and when we remember also that the children of the angels are not mentioned as boys, but men, mighty men, renowned men, it gives the thought that the angels, without divine permission, had really started to propagate a new race and that their progeny was much stronger than that of the poor, Adamite stock.

The disregard of Divine Law meant that the strength of these giants would be used selfishly and the licentious example of the angels had a demoralizing effect upon the children of Adam, as well as upon their own children. All this is stated and implied in the words, "And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually." What a terrible picture of the condition of things before the flood! But God was not astonished, for he had foreknown everything. Hence he had a great canopy of water in the sky which temporarily gave the earth an equable, temperate climate, but which he intended should fall upon the earth and cause the great flood in Noah's day. Hence at the appropriate time God gave instructions to Noah to prepare an ark for the saving of himself and his house. Noah and his family were the only members of Adam's race in all the earth who were not more or less contaminated by those angels. How wide must have been that influence when we read as an exceptional matter, "Now Noah (and his family) was perfect in his generation"—the disobedient angels had nothing whatever to do with generating them.

Fallen Angels Changed.

While the angels preferred to live as men in human bodies, they would not be overwhelmed like humanity in the flood, but merely dissolve, by dematerialization, their human bodies and be, as originally, spirit beings. Satan was the first sinner against the Divine government, in his endeavor to set up a separate empire and to have humanity for his subjects. Although God had full power to destroy Satan and the other disobedient angels, he has not exercised that power. Instead he merely isolated them from himself and the holy angels and imprisoned them, in the sense that he no longer permitted them to materialize, either as a serpent or as humanity for the tempting and injury of our race. In this sense they are imprisoned—restrained of liberty.

Now let us hear St. Peter's words respecting these angels who sinned. He says (II Peter ii, 4), "God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment." The word tartarus here rendered "hell" in our Common Version, is found nowhere else in the Bible. It refers to our earth's atmosphere and to the fact that those fallen angels, called demons or devils, are "the power of the air." And Satan, who was originally an angel of much higher rank and nature, is their Prince, "The Prince of the power of the air," the Prince of demons. They are "cast down" in the sense of being treated ignominiously. They are "in chains of darkness," not in chains of iron. They can still go and come and be sources of temptation to humanity who are in a sinful attitude of mind. They are restrained in chains of darkness in the sense that whatever they do must be done in the dark—until their judgment time at the Great Day—at the beginning of Messiah's thousand-year day of the reign of righteousness.

Turn to St. Jude's Epistle. There we read (verse 6), "The angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in age lasting chains, under darkness, unto the Judgment of the Great Day." Their first estate in which they were created was the spirit or angelic condition. They left their own proper condition of living and nature, in violation of the Divine will, that they might live on a lower plane—live in sin; for the angels are sexless, though always referred to as masculine. And our Lord declares that those begotten of the holy Spirit, who during this age shall attain to the resurrection of the dead, the "First Resurrection," will be "like unto the angels" in several respects—one of these being that they will neither marry nor be given in marriage, but be without sexual distinction.

In harmony with this note how spiritualists hold their seances, either in absolute darkness or in a very faint light. They claim now that the spirits are getting more and more power of materialization and that soon they will be able to materialize in broad daylight and go about amongst humanity as members of the race. We do not question the power of God to restrain these fallen angels, these demons—his power to restrain them from materializing and thus doing great harm in the world. Nevertheless, we wonder if they will not be permitted by God to find some greater powers of materialization, contrary to the Divine decree, that their course in this matter may more particularly manifest to what extent some of them have changed and reformed and desire to be obedient, for instance, while others are still as opposed to God and righteousness as ever. There is room for this understanding in the statement of the Apostle that the chains of darkness were to control them until the Great Day—not necessarily into that day—perhaps at its very beginning they may be permitted to gain certain liberties and do a certain amount of injury to humanity, to all who are not attentive to the Word of God, and who, therefore, will not know who these spirits are—that they are the fallen angels, the demons of the Bible.

NEWARK PASTORS URGE ASSISTANCE FOR LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

The preachers of Newark, showed in no uncertain way by their words Sunday morning that they do not accept the first returns on the Y. M. C. A. campaign as final. To a man they agreed that to close the association would be no less than a crime.

At the first M. E. church Rev. Levi C. Sparks asked Mr. E. S. Randolph to present the case for the association.

He said that present conditions in our city made it imperative that a strong, vigorous work for young men be maintained and that the failure to provide the funds would cripple the association and possibly make it imperative to close the doors. This would be nothing less than a public calamity. He appealed for a spirit of unselfish, generous support of the association.

At the Fifth street Baptist church the pastor, Rev. J. A. Bennett, as a prelude to his sermon, spoke about the work of the Newark Y. M. C. A. and among other things said:

"Some 25 years ago a few men in whom dwelt the spirit of Christian altruism organized the Young Men's Christian Association, which has continued since then without interruption. What good the institution has accomplished, only God can tell. That it has been a real live force in building four-square men, that is, in developing the physical, mental, moral and spiritual natures of men, no one can deny. This institution has grown until its present building is inadequate. The fact of a fine building being too small and its equipment too meagre, grows out of its success. The building looked very large to Newark when it was erected, but it has been outgrown. Two years ago a meeting for boys from 10 to 20 years of age was begun, which soon developed into the largest work of its kind in the United States. For two years the boys' meetings have crowded Taylor Hall, and now the boys are crowding the men. Hence the necessity for the improvements in the building, which by making separate quarters for the men and the boys, will increase its capacity as well as its efficiency, 100 per cent. But it takes money to make repairs and run an institution. Especially is this true of all benevolent institutions. Hence the necessity of making a canvass of our town in behalf of the financial side of this institution."

"The sum needed was not great when compared with the ability of our citizens. But alas, the canvass was a failure. Some 20 men, more or less, waited upon hundreds of our citizens and pleaded with them to support this work, but in vain. True, some listened with interest and contributed with pleasure. But to my mind the canvass has revealed an alarming condition of things in the city of Newark. If I were to put that condition into a phrase it would be this: The indifference of our people to moral and spiritual things. I have felt during the week as if I were a physician, with my finger upon the pulse of a patient, and I have been alarmed to find that the pulse beats low and very slow, indicating a low state of vitality when it comes to moral and spiritual things. For the most part our people seem to be indifferent to the training of 1000 boys who attend our meetings, indifferent to 2000 boys in our town who might be reached; indifferent to the 7000 men who constitute our voters, indifferent as to whether these shall have a place to spend their evenings; indifferent to all the service, prayers and sacrifices of the men who have stood loyally by this institution for more than a third of a century. What an awful advertisement it would be for this town before the world to say that its citizens would not support a Young Men's Christian Association. Brethren, pray that this town may wake up to a proper sense of its opportunities and responsibilities."

Rev. F. E. Vernon at the First Presbyterian church said:

In this time of the history of Newark, with the opportunity before us of entering into larger and better Christian work of every kind, it would be unfortunate indeed for our Y. M. C. A. to take a backward step or have to close its doors altogether. It must be that the Christian people of Newark are now awake to the opportunity and the need, especially at this time of broadening and strengthening all our Christian institutions. Those in direct charge of the Y. M. C. A. would feel that if this work cannot be supported now, when our city is aroused to righteousness in government, there is but little hope of receiving a larger measure of support in the years to come. It is a situation of great significance. Our earnest, hearty support of Christian work at this time will mean the placing of our city upon the broad and sure foundations of Christian civilization and the consequent growth and welfare of Newark, while a failure at this time will mean that our present civic awakening is merely temporal and ephemeral, and that it will be but a short time until conditions worse than before shall prevail. Surely, if the people of Newark realized the larger meaning of the present situation, there would be a rush to the support of an institution which stands for the betterment of those who are so soon to constitute the citizenship of our city. Let every citizen of Newark weigh these things carefully, and give his support to all that will help to make Newark a permanently noble, prosperous and happy city."

Gates In Norway.

A curious feature to travelers in the highroads of Norway is the great number of gates—upward of 10,000 in the whole country—which have to be opened. These gates, which either mark the boundaries of the farms or separate the home fields from the waste lands, constitute a considerable inconvenience and delay to the traveler, who has to stop his vehicle and get down to open them.

MISSING SON LEFT NEWARK A MONTH AGO

Located in Colorado—Last Became
Enamored of Rough Rider
Style of Life.

Cambridge, O., Sept. 26.—A Deputy Sheriff John S. Bell received a telegram Saturday evening from the chief of police at Canon City, Colo., stating that he had located William Hartley, Jr., aged 19, and would hold him for orders. Hartley, who is the son of M. L. Hartley, a banker of this city, left Newark about a month ago, visiting his grandfather, about one month ago. Mr. Hartley, a native of Cambridge, Ohio, who is a young Hartley, has been reported of their rough rider style of life, and it is thought doubtful to follow it. Sheriff Berry with Mr. Hartley Sr., at Chelsea, Ohio, where he was searching for his son, and the father left at once for Canon City.

NEWARK BANKERS WILL OBSERVE THE NEW LEGAL HOLIDAY

Newark bankers will observe the new legal holiday, Oct. 12th, by closing all the banks in the city on that date and the business men will be requested to so arrange their affairs that they can do their banking of that date either the day before or the day after.

October 12th is a lucky day, the anniversary of the date on which Christopher Columbus beheld the new world in 1492. The day has been made a legal holiday and it will be observed in Newark this year for the first time.

The sentiment among Newark bankers seems to be to close and this will be done, but the opinion of officers of the various banks will better give the idea.

F. S. Wright, First National—“We will close if the other banks do and the matter will be taken up informally by the bankers of Newark, as no formal action can be taken, there being no bankers' organization in this city.”

Willis A. Robbins, president of the First National Bank—“As far as commercial banks such as ours, is concerned, all such will go over to the next day for execution, the same as on any other legal holiday. In New York and other large cities, the count of the inconvenience to business, and the same may be said to Newark banks, in proportion. There seems to be a tendency to create too many legal holidays, but we will close.”

W. C. Metz, Secretary-Treasurer of Newark Trust Co.—“If other banks close, of course we will on Oct. 12.”

C. L. V. Holtz, cashier and treasurer of the Licking County Bank—“It seems fitting that this day should be observed and we will be glad to take the matter up with the other banks, with the ultimate idea of closing on the day mentioned.”

A. G. Wachs, president of Park National Bank—“All other banks are closing on the same, so we will close the entire day of Oct. 12.”

C. C. McGruder, of the Old Home Building Association—“We have always been accustomed to observe all holidays that banks observe, and October 12 will be no exception.”

When the curtain goes up at the Orpheum theatre tonight upon Elsie Williams and her company, an innovation will be marked in the history of local vaudeville theatres.

Manager Bassett said today: “The engagement of Elsie Williams and her musical comedy company in ‘Topsy Turvy Flats’ is the first of the Nelson attractions to appear in Newark. Some idea of the magnitude and excellence of these organizations may be had from the present week's attraction. These companies will appear exclusively in Sun circuit theatres throughout this territory. All reports to the contrary notwithstanding. As a producer Arthur Nelson has made history in the vaudeville

CHIEF BAUSCH
AUTO CONTRIVANCE

Fire Chief Bausch is of an inventive turn of mind and during his leisure hours he can usually be found in his workshop at the Central fire station “tinkering” with something that will be an improvement in the equipment at one of the fire stations. He has invented many little things that are labor savers, and his latest invention has just been put to a practical test.

It is used on his automobile and controls the muffler. His idea, which developed in his workshop, can be operated from the seat instead of with the usual foot pedals, and it was made entirely from “scraps” he found in the shop. The chief, while he admits the invention is quite handy, says he will not patent it, although his friends have advised him to do so.
